Integrating Talent with Technology

ConsultNet: Uniquely Equipped to Meet Health Care Requirements

ConsultNet is an information technology (IT) and engineering staffing company that focuses on matching the right people with the right organization. Our focus on identifying and working with highly-skilled technical workers and professionals allows ConsultNet to be a valuable resource to the health care industry and its many, technically specific functions.

The health care industry is soaring—surging with Federal Government funds it will generate more new wage and salary jobs in the coming years than any industry in the United States economy. This means more IT and engineering positions to fill—making it even more difficult to find the best talent for the job. When looking for the skilled health care professionals to add to your team, trust ConsultNet, a veteran in IT staffing, to find the right candidates. ConsultNet has more than 13 years of experience providing highly educated professionals with specific technical skills to industries across the board.

Why ConsultNet?

ConsultNet's invaluable IT staffing experience allows us to provide the right solution for any of your IT needs. We understand the unique challenges of health information management and interoperability in the health care industry—our consultants are trained and qualified in the following:

- Administrative and Financial Systems
- Clinical Decision Support Systems, Electronic Health Records and Electronic Medical Records
- Information Security Systems
- Servers & Networks
- Handheld Technologies

ConsultNet's Services

ConsultNet is a recognized leader in IT staffing. We offer a wide variety of staffing solutions for the health care industry—we are confident we will meet your unique and specific IT needs. Our services range from: 1. Direct Hire; 2. Contract to Hire; to 3. Our Innovative Flexible and Supplemental Workforce Model.

Direct Hire

As you are building new functional teams, or revamping your current organizational structure, consider ConsultNet as a partner in your continued success. ConsultNet has extensive experience in direct candidate placement in all IT positions—from top-level executives to floor team members.

Contract to Hire

ConsultNet can bring on team members on a contract basis, with an option to hire later. We literally take any potential risk out of new hires because clients take advantage of a try before you buy program.

Highly Skilled Workers, Available on a Contract or Temporary Basis

ConsultNet has pioneered the supplemental and flexible workforce concept of applying highly skilled technical workers to the temporary staffing model. When your contract ends, so does your obligation with our consultants. ConsultNet's concept can easily be applied when staffing for the difficult and "hard to find" skillsets associated with the health care industry.

At ConsultNet, we know that people are the key to success and we promise you access to top-notch consultants, the ability to control your budget and a partner in your long-term success.
